

London

I lay beside you
I listen to yur breath
Why do you take my hand again
My sweet black princes
You hurt again my feelings
While you are giving me your drunken love
Telling me you will feel the same tomorrow

Again I loose myself inside your eyes
Did I ever tell you how beautiful they are?
Please talk to me
Tell me the same as you said tonight

Don't you see I suffer just because of you
I did you hold you in my arms while you were crying
Is it therefore , tell me is it therefore
I've been always on your side
Now you watch me dying

Don't talk to me
I need to be alone
My heart beats in anger, bleeds in anger
Blocking off my veins
I already lost the feeling in my arms

Squeeze my veins
And drink my blood
Watch my eyes
As they turn inside
