

Blind my eyes

I scream these words into the silence

Let me run way

I'm so confused I can't see the way

Blind my eyes

I watched a butterfly today
A moment that made sad inside
How I would love to die right now
All this blood that I can't wash away
Anymore

I turned my eyes away
For I cannot stand this place
I am the queen of an empty world
Haunted by myself
Nowhere to run
Nowhere to hide

Behind the walls of glass
I see the people living their lives
Why can't I join them
Why can't I be a part of them
I died the first time
With my first breath
I recalled to rape myself
