

No Emotions

Tear my heart wide open
And take out everything that you will find
Spread it out on the table
So you can see all the tings inside
Now tell me where's my love
Have you found him somewhere there
Just one little sign that he still belongs to me

No emotions
How can I be shure
With no feelings at all
It's so dark and cold in here
Bring light and warm my soul
Show me how to love
With no emotions

And if you do not find him
Please be so kind and don't tell me
Lie to me just this one time
And say he still belongs to me
I wish I could say
I'm just confused
And time will bring back my mind
But I know myself
And I know my own bagage
My own enemy

I wish I wouldn't have to harm you
I wish I could see the way
